We are excited to share this "Game of the Week" with your family.

Remember, you can substitute game materials with other creative and safe items that you may have available in your home.

Enjoy and have fun playing with your family and friends!

FLYING DUTCHMAN

Equipment: None. The players hold hands in a circle. Two players are selected to be partners. They join hands and run around the circle. The partner closest to the circle touches the joined hands of two other players. These two run around the circle in the opposite direction and try to get back to the vacant place in the circle before the first pair. Runners pass to each other's right as they go around the circle.
